invincibles. In picturing the glories of that day The Dispatch makes this unfeeling and distoyal shap at the noble army of martyrs who march under military titles conferred by themselves: "There would be present real generals, colonels, majors, captains, and leutenants, and privates—many of the last now famous men—by thousands."

THE DRAMA.

EDWIN BOOTH.

Mr. Booth, who is now in this city, will remain here until about November 1, when he goes to Boston. His new season begins on November 5, at the Globe Theatre, in that city, where he will make his re-entrance as Cardinal Richelieu, and where he will remain for three weeks. On December 10 he begins an engagement of air weeks at the Star Theatre in New-York. Then he will visit, in turn, the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia and Brook-lyn, giving two weeks to each of them. Toward the end of February, 1884, he revisits New-York, and plays an engagement of four weeks. In this city he will run through his entire repertory. The dramatic company engaged to co-operate with Mr. Booth includes D. C. Anderson, John A. Lane, Eben Plympton, Frederick Bock, Owen Fawcett, H. A. Weaver, jr., Byron Douglas, Albert Roberts, Geoffrey Hawley, Leighton Baker, Julian Kahn, Miss Effle Weaver, Miss Ida Vernon, Miss Norah Bartlett, Miss Annie Eilsler, and Mrs. Louise Eldridge. Messrs, Brooks & Dickson and Horace McVicker are the managers of Mr. Booth's present sea-son. It will be observed that he will appear in only a son. It will be observed that he will appear in only a few cities—Boston, New-York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Brooklyn. It is designed to mount carefully and in bandsome attire the plays in which he will appear. Mr. Booth comes back to us with the laurels of his European tour still fresh and green; but he needed not the praises of England or Germany to insure him an affectionate welcome from the American people.

THEATRICAL MISCELLANY.

It is said that Mr. Barnum is in negotiation for the Alexandra Palace, London. The receipts taken at Glasgow during Mr.

Last Friday afternoon one of the Madison Square Theatre companies, now acting in "The Rajah," at the Chestaut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, gave a performance for the benefit of the Journalistic Club of that city. The receipts exceeded $1,400. Fine floral tributes were presented to the company.

Mr. Austin Brereton, the author of the Life of Henry Irving, and Editor of the fourth volume of that useful London publication, Dramatic Notes, was a passenger aboard the Adriatic, arriving here Friday evening. Mr. Flockton, who will appear at the People's Theatre to-night in "The New Flying Duteaman, bears a resemblance to Mr. Henry Irving. The play in which Mr. Flockton will appear is announced as an "interesting drama in four acts, written for Mesars. Picekton & Edmunds by T. H. Glenney." It is, in fact, a theatrical synopsis of a recent very clever Caristmas story, by Mr. Robert Buchanan.

The present is the last week of the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Florence, at the Grand Opera House, and they will be seen as Bardwell State and Mrs. Gilflory. Mr. Florence has lately twice given his fine performance of Capt. Outile, a work which is at once a performance of copic cases, a way a secret, however, curiosity and sweet refreshment. Its effect, however, suffered somewhat from the incompetence of the surrounding cast. "Eilean Oga" has been received with much favor, and its well that Mr. Florence does not entirely abandon Irish characters—of which he is the best living representative.

Kate Claxton's success in "The Sea of Ice "in which remantic drama she will shortly be seen at the Third Avenue Theatre, in this city—is especially notable as showing the versatile talent with which she has broken away from her long established peculiarities, as the blind Louise in "The Two Orphans." Miss Claxton enacts Ogarita and Louise de Lascours, and these conenacts ogaria and Louise de Laceres an occasion, that is trasted parts afford to the actress an occasion, that is amply improved, for the display of various talents. She has had new scenery painted for "The Sen of Ice," and the carries this in her train, together with a numer-ous and efficient company. A little child, Olive Berkley, is a member of the corps, and has attracted unusual and pleased attention

A CHAT WITH MRS, LANGTRY.

NEW FROCKS FROM PARIS FOR HER NOVELTY-MRS. LE BRETON.

A graceful figure clad in a tight-fitting blue cloth traveiling dress with a plastron formed of white straps, the bair in the well-known tight knot and carling bang, the face plumper than it used to be, and touched by the sun and sea air into almost raddiness, surmounted by a small, plain straw hat-such was the appearance Mrs. Langtry presented last evening as she stepped forward to shake hands with a TRIBUNE reporter in her cosey little parlor at the St. James Hotel. She had arrived there but a few minutes before, the Oregon, on which she made the passage, having been met at quarantine by the tug John E. Moore with her manager, Charles Mondum, and a few other friends on board. By a special permit Mrs. Langtry and her mother, Mrs. Le Breton, were allowed to disembark from the Oregon and were brought up to the city on the tug. Mrs. Le Breton, who was in the room with Mrs. Langtry is handsome and young-looking to have a daughter of Mrs. Langtry's age.

"I am so glad to be back," said the latter, "and I expeet to enjoy my second visit even more than my first." Well, in the first place I have my mother with me, and I cannot tell you how much pleasanter that will make everything seem to me. It is so good of her, for she is a bad sailor and dreaded the voyage Yery much. My father had hoped to come also, but at the last minute found he could not spare the time, so be had to content himself with seeing us off. Now 1 am perfectly honest when I say that I am giad to be back Sgalo, for I like your country very, very much. Mr. Schlitree, Tom Ochiltree, you know (isn't he a remarkable man), who was on board with us, asked me why I was going to Australia when I could make all the money I wanted to in America. My English friends asked me just the same question, only they substituted America for Australia and England for America, for I have been doing remarkably well in the English provinces. My answer in both cases is the same-because I want to. I want to see the world and enjoy myself as well as make "Well, then another reason for the increased pleasure I expect to derive from this season's tour is that I know the people better and have got used to their ways. Besides tour is that I know the people better and have got used to their ways. Besides I am practically a manageress now, you know, just as I was in England for Mr. Mendum is only my business manager. So as a manageress, let me talk business for a few minutes. I think I have done wisely in opening my season out of New-York, for there are to be such strong attractions at the beginning of the season, and besides I think I began too early last year. We open in Burlington, Yt., on October 27, and do not reach New-York till January, when I shall bring out what is for America a new play called, "Peril," I have brought over all the properties for it and am going down to the Custom House to-morrow to see if I cannot pass them free of duty. I have bren in Paris three weeks getting new frocks, and I think they are, something I can be proud of." "What will you play besides "Peril"!

"The School for Scandal," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Hunchback," will be my main reperiory. I have got entirely new costumes for them all, but "Peril" is the only play I shall have my own scenery and properties for. "Well, now isn't that enough about business." I want d properties for.

Well, now isn't that enough about business ! I wan "Well, now isn't that enough about business? I want to tell you something funny. Do you know, I was accused by my friends at home of speaking with an American accent, while here all the critics blume me for my English accent. If I didn't pick up the American intention I certainly caught up lots of your siang, and very good slamp it is, too. But one uses it quite unconsciously and it strikes those unused to it at once."

OPERA AT THE ACADEMY.

ARRIVAL OF MR. MAPLESON AND HIS COMPANY-MME GERSTER AND HER CHILD ..

There was quite a family party yesterday afternoon in the rooms of J. H. Mapleson, at the New-York Hotel, when a TRIBUNE reporter called. Mr. Mapleson had arrived not long before on the City of Berlin, bringing with him the majority of his singers. After shaking ands effusively with The Tribune reporter, he led him to a corner to have what he called a quiet chat. "So you want to know my plans, do you ?" said he. " Well, my dear fellow, mum's the word," and he winked expresively and put his figger to his lips, "I think the best plan I can pursue is to keep quiet and when the time comes spring my mine suddenly under the feet of my rival. I have come to the conclusion that it is no use blowing before hand and indulging in vague pramises of fature greatness, which, between you and me, the public see through at once. I can tell you though, that I have been working like a horse ever since there and everywhere about Europe after wingers. The result is that I have the strongest company I have ever brought over. Fact, I assure you. My tenors, especially, are something out of the common. For twenty years I have been scouring Europa for good tenors, and with only partial success. Last year we had to force poor little Ravelli down the public's throat, but he was half mad and a never-ending source of worry. Besides, though he had a voice he had no figure or stage appearance. Now, these men I have are fine-looking fellows, gentlemanly, you know, and all that sort of thing. That's what we want. The women go and see them, and rave about them, and then the men go to see what the women rave about, and there you are. Then my contraltos are good. I had thought of Trebelli, and was fool enough to let the cat out of the bag before I left last season. Her German friends here sent her over the clippings, and when I approached her she was away up in the clouds. Well, I put her off and put her off, and then let her "But I've got a company now that will beat anything

The contract was drawning, and by his request a clanse inserted saying that if he did not come to America he was to forfeit $3,000. This he said he wanted because his wife objected to the voyage, and he thought this would render her more amenable. I also prevalled on Mr. Gye to engage him for Convent Garden, though he only sang three times for his $8,000. Some months after he wrote to me, appealing to me as the father of a family, and caimly stating that he had accepted a higher offer from Abbay. I wrote back that I would enjoin aim is America and sue him for damages in Englant. The writ, which was an eightfur one, was secured, and in six days he mai sailed for America. HONORS PAID TO CAMPANINI.

A committee of four members of the New-York Halian Society of Benevolence, consisting of Messrs, Corradi, the president, and Morossi, secretary, and two others, called upon Signor Campanini yesterday to present him with the diploma of his election the position of Perpetual Honorary President of the Association, which honor was con-ferred on him last June. The diploma was on a fair skin of parchment, which was illuminated to an artistic manner. There was a border of ivy leaves, indicative of immortality, well drawn and strongly painted. In the centre at the top was a pelican, feeding its young, with the name of the association, and this was flanked on each side by the shields of Ituly and the United States. In the centre at the bottom was a lyre surrounded by a wreath of laurel, with sheet mu on the left, and music-books on the right. The in-scription was written in a rery fine hand in links of various colors. Translated into English it ran thus; various colors. Translated into English it ran thus:

AUTUMN NOTES FROM NEWPORT.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 14.-About one-third of the cottage residents have taken their departure. The Aquidneck House closed on Wednesday, and the Cliff Avenue Hotel on Saturday. All the hotelskeepers are satisfied with their receipts. About fifty well-known cottage residents will remain here all winter. The fashionable drives and thoroughfares do not, as yet, present a deserted appearance. Dinner parties and other social incidents are still on the cards, and the present month will be quite gay among the class of cottagers who be lieve that Newport is an atractive place at all seasons of

The alleged sale of the estate of Pierre Lorillard to Cornelius Vanderbilt, is attracting much attention. The price supposed to be paid—$450,000—is not considered out of the way. The house, porter's lodge and stables cost about $85,000, the land $200,000, grading, $17,000 and the furniture about $40,000. Considerable money was spent in decorating the house. Mr. Lorillard, however, sold a portion of his real estate to Miss C. L. Wolfe, which adjoins "The Breakers," the name of the Lorillard estate. There have been several offers for the place, but while Mr. Lorillard desired to sell, he did not propose to make a sacrifice of the property. STABBED TO THE HEART IN A BRAWL.

The usual Sunday street brawls in the district of Brooklyn known as Dutchtown, in the Sixth Police Precinct, were diversified last evening by a homicide. The victim was Caspar Shittig, age twenty, of No. 331 Humboldt-st. He was sitting on the stoop of Germania Hall, at Montrose-ave, and Leonard-st, at 7 o'clock in company with two of his friends, Charles Remmith, age eighteen, of No. 210 Graham-ave., and Henry Weldemeyer, age sixteen, of No. 181 Stagg-st. The three had been drinking. Charles Miller, age twenty-two, of No. 69 Scholes-st., passed, words were exchanged between him and them, and they made a rush for Miller. Schittig was foremost, and Miller heatily drawing a pocket-knife drove the blade to the hilt in Schittig's chest. It entered the apex of the the bilt in Schittig's chest. It entered the apex of the heart, and the wounded man sank to the sidewalk in his death gasp. He was hastly borne to the drug-store of William Weygandt, at Montrose-ave, and Ewen-st, but he died in a few moments. An ambulance surgeon was called, but was too late to be of any aid. The body of the dead man was carried to the Stagg Street Police Station, pending the permission of Coroner Dovle for an undertaker to take charge of it. Police Captain Kalsar and Detective line went to Miler's house and arrested him. He asserted that he inflicted the wound in self-adrence and he gave up the blood-stained kulfe with which the tatal stab was inflicted. The two young men who were with Schittig and William Bergman, William Berginger and August Kean, each age twenty, were held as witnesses. Miller will be arraigned before Justice Massey to-day.

A ROBBERY AT THE GRAND HOTEL.

On last Wednesday morning between 12:30 and 1 o'clock the woman-cashier of the Grand Hotel rapped on the door of Mr. Smith, one of the proprietors and told him that "the treasury had been robbed." Mr. Smith hurried on his ciething and fescended into the office where he found the door of the safe open and several papers scattered about the floor. An examination of the contents of the safe was made and it was ound that $25 was missing; $15 of which was in three iew 85 bank-notes which had been paid to the cashler for supper on Tuesday night. The safe was uninjured for supper on Tuesday hight. The safe was uninjured and had been opened in the regular way by means of the combination lock showing that the thief must have been hamiliar with the combination. Mr. Smith questioned the light-clerk whose came is also Smith, but he gave as an excuse that he had left the office for a minute and he uppeced that it was during that time that the robbery and taken place. SUGAR FROM SORGHUM.

WHAT NEW-YORK REFINERS SAY ABOUT A SAMPLE FROM ILLINOIS.

To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sin: I inclose you a small sample of sorghum sugar made at the Champaign Sugar Works in this city. The sugar is just the same as it came from the centrifugals, and is submitted for your opinion or that of any good judge of sugar. Respectfully yours,

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 4, 1883. [The sample sent with the above was submitted to prominent sugar brokers and refiners in this city without letting them know anything of its origin. They agreed in pronouncing it an unusually good sample, and fixed the market value at not below 75s cents per pound. Sugar refiners here say they have used sorghum sugars and found them to work of a clift site, and has made offers for the estate owned by W. W. TWO POLITICAL COUNCILS.

WHAT THE CONVENTIONS WILL DO TO-DAY. THE COUNTY DEMOCRACY TRYING TO SEEM INDE-PENDENT-A REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE COM-

Two county conventions will meet to-day. The County Democracy will hold its convention at 3 p. m., in the large hall of the Cooper Institute, and the Republican County Convention will meet at 8 p. m. in Republican Hall. It is not at all likely that either organization will place a ticket in the field before night. The Committee of Twenty-four, appointed by the County Democracy to make arrangements for the convention, met yesterday, but did nothing, and adjourned until Signor Bettini, Signor Caracelele, Miss Josephine Yorke, of nominating a straight ticket, or uniting with Signor Cherubini, Signor Falleti, Signor Miglietti, Signor the Citizens' organization in forming one. Rinaldini, Signor Sivori, Signor Vaschetti, Signor Venare the majority, favor the appointment of a committee to ascertain the feeling of the other Democratic organ-izations and see whether a union can he had on the local ticket and possibly, also, an agreement on candidates for Senators and Assemblymen.

There is a strong feeling on the part of many of the County Democracy against anything that looks like a direct combination with Tammany Hall. On the other hand, a pressure has been brought to bear on the leaders by country Democrats to induce them to agree to united local nominations on the ground that it will aid the ticket. They say that if the County Democracy refuses to go into a combination with Tammany Hall and the State ticket is defeated, the County Demogracy will be keld responsible for it. This has had a good deal of effect, and will probably result in a union on local nominations.

The committee to be appointed to-day will not be given athority to pledge the convention to any course of action. It will simply be vested with the power to scertain what is the feeling in the other Demperatic organizations, and possibly the Citizens as well, peratic organizations, and possibly the Chizens as well, and report to the convention at a later date. The convention at a later date. The convention will then take such action as it deems best. Some of the friends of Poilee Justice Henry Murray say that they favor nominating a tecket to-day with that gentleman as the condidate for Register. E. Ellery Anderson and Corporation Counsel Andrews are favored for Supreme Court Judges, and Judge Nebrbas and John D. Coughlin for Judges of the City (formerly Marine) Court.

The Republican County Convention will probably do The Republican County Convention win proposity to nothing more than meet and appoint a Committee of Conference. could then nominate a straight ticket, with a good chance of electing it. If Tammany and Irving Hall and the County Democracy unite on a local ticket, the Republicans and Cilizens' organization are likely to make up a ticket composed of strong men, and trust to the dissatisfaction which a Democratic combination ticket will create to give the former a chance to win.

The Citizens' organization will meet on Thesday, when the political situation will be discussed, together with the outlook for a combination with either the County Democrats or Republicans. Should there be a combination with the Republicans. Should there be a combination with the Republicans. Should there be a combination with the Republicans, the latter will be conceded one of the Supreme Court Judges and one of the Judges of the City Court. A Democrat will be named for Register, and one of the supreme Court Judges will also be of that political inits. For Register the names of E. Ellery Anderson, ex-County Clerk William A. Butler, Charles J. Blanvelt and Robert B. Roosevelt have been mentioned. Judge Nebbas would be rehommated, and this is depended on to secure a portion of the German vote. There will also be a discussion of the merits of various candidates for Aldermen. These are deemed of great importance. It is urreed that if good men were placed in nomination or combinations were made with the Republicans or, County Democrate, there would be a possibility of securing a majority of Board of Aldermen, and this would insure the confirmation of good nominees for heads of departments or Police Justices and the rejection of bad ones. The action of the County Democracy to-day may have a strong effect on the future action of the Citizen's organization. The leaders of the Committee of Fifty laugh at the lide of piacing in nomination of Brien as Register. They say it would make their novement redecious at the outset.

THE COMPLAINTS AGAINST AN ASYLUM.

DR. MARR DENIES THE CHARGES-THE MEDICAL BOARD INDIGNANT.

The little town of East Chester, near Mount Vernon, Westchester County, is much agitated over—the verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of Emma Nicho', charges the medical and sanitary department of the in-stitution with gross mismanagement and negligence, and Jury. Among the board of managers and the various best-known persons in New-York, The president is Clark Bell, and associated with him are Levi M. Bates, Dr. Whitam N. Blageman, William H. Guton, Richard B. cal Board is composed of physicians of high standing. A reporter of THE TRIBUSE visited the asylum yesterday, and Dr. Caroline G. Marr, the resident physician, indignantly denied the charges made by the Coroner's had been in the asylum 133 cases of measles, more or ices severe, and in September 132 cases of measles and 66 of dysentery. In August there were 23 and in Sepember 33 deaths. In August there were 224 childre in the asylum, and in September 175. The high rate of mortality she attributed to an epidemic of measles and whooping-cough combined with dysentery. On July whooping-cough combined with dysentery. On July 100 she said, a child was admitted to the Asytim from the receiving branch at Fitty-dretts, and Sixth-ave. It was supposed to be perfectly healthy, but two or three days after being admitted it developed symptoms of the measles, and the child was promptly quarartined. The institution was then fail, and the child had mingded freely with the other children before being quarantined. In a few days cases of measles broke out in several wards, and were attended by various complications. "Evorything fant could be thought of," said Dr. Marr, "was done to prevent the ajread of the discuss The side children were isolated as far as possible; the rooms were disfureded, and now we have about succeeded in stamping out the epidemic. Dr. J. Lewis Smith, referring to the finding of a Coroner's jury that Emma Nichols had died of scarlet fever, said; "There have been no cases during my life where the symptoms indicated scarlet fever, and there is no known post-mortem appearance which characterizes that disease. Those men who expressed that opinion before the Coroner's jury had not seen the patient until after death. The Board has entire confidence in the competency of Dr. Caroline G. Marr, and has approved of the steps she has taken during the course of the epidemic."

WANTED IN CHICAGO FOR FORGERY.

A dispatch was received from Chief of Police Doyle, of Chicago, at Police Headquarters yesterday, asking the olice of this city to arrest Thomas Taylor, age twenty-nine, who was supposed to be living at No. 129 Chrystic-st., on a general charge of forgery and grand inceny. Detective-Sergeants Slawson and Charles O'Connor were detailed on the case by Inspector Byrnand upon soing to the address given in the dispatch and upon soing to the address given in the dispatch found Taylor at supper. They charged him with the crime and showed him the telegram, but he attempted to resist them. They showed their authority and he consented to be handenifed. Taylor, who is an Englishman, was taken to Police Headquarters and imprisoned for the night. Late last high requisition papers were received from Governor Cleverand, and the prisoner will be held until the arrival of an officer from Chicago.

MRS. GEORGE C. BONIFACE.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Boston, Oct. 14.-Margaret, wife of George C. Bouiface, died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at her residence in North Scituste, after a long illness from an internal cancer. She was born in Rochester, N. Y., in 1840, and was one of four sisters, all of whom gained considerable distinction on the stage. One was Kate Newton, now dead, who married Charles Backus, of minstrel fame; another was Nellie Newton, now Mrs. Taylor; another was Mary or "Mollie" Newton, who is now the wife of N. D. Jones, the actor, and lives in this city. Margaret made her first appearance on the stage at the Rochester Theatre, at the age of eighteen, as Mrs. St. Clair in "Uncie Tom's Capin." She was married at an early age to Mr. Boulface.;
She gradually worked her way up in the profession and from the unimportant rôles was seen promoted to 'responsible business." From Baltimore she went with her husband to the Winter Garden in New-York, where he played principal support to Charlotte Cushman, and thence to the Bowery. thence In 1864 Mr. Beniface began a starring tour through the West in "Macbeth," "Richelicu" and other legitimate rôles, and was accompanied by his wife. Returning "The Black Crook." under Jarrett & Palmer's manage ment at Niblo's, and she played the part throughout the first long run of that piece, which extended from September 12, 1866, to January 4, 1868-474 represen tions; and in 1872 Mr. and Mrs. Boniface became nembers of Charles Furbush's combination, and remained with it five seasous, appearing in "Divorce," "Frou Frou," "Article 47," and other pieces. After leaving Furbush's Company Mrs. Boulface accompanied her husband in- his starring Mrs. Boundace accompanies trust," "Queen's Evidence," tours with "The Soldier's Trust," "Queen's Evidence," etc. For the past four or five seasons she has played tours with "The Soldier's Trust," "Queen's Evidence," etc. For the past four or five seasons she has played first old women's parts with Lotta's Company.

Early last spring she came to Boston and in April she went to the cottage at North Soltatas, where she and her husband lived for several summers.

Mrs. Boniface leaves three children. Miss Stella, who for five years was attached to Wallack's Theatre Company, and last season played leading parts in support of John T. Raymond, is the closet. George C. Boniface, Jr., the second child, is about twen'y-three years old, and has had considerable experience on the stage. The youngest is John, a lad of eleven years. Mr. Boniface, though he must have long foreseen his loss, is prostrated by grief. His part in "Monte Cristo" at the Globe Theatre was played on Saturday afternoon and evening by J. L. Carnart, who will continue in it until Mr. by J. L. Carnari, who will continue in it until Mr. Boniface fells able to return to the stage. The remains of Mrs. Boniface will be interred in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, probably on Tuesday.

TRIBUNE OFFICE, Oct. 15-1 a. m .- During the clear weather of yesterday the movement in the barometer was upward. The minfall measured .16 of an inch The temperature ranged between 54° and 83°, the average (70%) being 12% higher than on the correaponding day last year and 4° higher than on Saturday.

Cooler, clear or fair weather, may be expected to-day in this city and vicinity.

ALTERNATIONS OF TEMPERATURE.

If there is one thing in which New-York beats creation" it is in the exceeding rapidity of its weather changes. On Saturday there was a fog that was thick enough to be cut with a knife. In the night that was blown away and a warm wave succeeded yesterday, which was at first pleasant, but as the day advanced became disagreeable. According to Hudaut's record the moreury recorded 68° at 3 a. m. ; 60° at 6 a. m.; 71° at 9 a.m.; 77° at noon; 83° at 3 p.m.; 75° at 6 p. m.; 640 at 9 p. m; 600 at 10 p. m. A members of the Board present were A. N. Bell, man, J. Lewis Smith, George B. Fowler, J. Clarke mes and H. Marten Sims. Dr. Edward Bradley, one wishing physicians, was also present. All were said at the language of the Coroner's verdict. One made at the language of the Coroner's verdict. wave on the lakes and south of them.

The dense fog of Saturday provented many of the outgoing European steamships from going to sea, and they anchored in the Lower Bay. No sooner had day broke yesterday than a fleet of fifty-two vessels weighed anchor and passed outside of Sandy Hook, Amoug these were the steamships Normandle, Anchoris, Belgenland, Tinnyadis, Alvena, Spain, Furnessia, Germanic, Richmond Tower Hill, Cornwall, Benefactor, Guadslepe, E. C. Knight, Ben Venue, Tycho Braile and Romano.

The tides at Rockaway and Long Reach on Saturday night were high, and cause! a large amount of damage to the property along the beaches.

A LETTER OF RALPH WALDO PMERSON.

ACCEPTANCE OF AN INVITATION TO HIS FIRST AND ONLY PASTORATE.

Boston, Oct. 14.—The following letter was written by the late Ralph Waldo Emerson, accepting the invitation of the Second Unitarian Church, of Boston, to become a co-paster with the Rev. Henry Ware, jr. He was chosen in March, 1829, and entered upon his duties tunnediately. In about a year Mr. Ware resigned, and Mr. Emerson became a full pastor, a relation that continued for two years, when he finally re-tired from the ministry. It was his first and only church.

tired from the ministry. It was his first and only church. The letter is as follows?

Christian Brethren and Friends: I have received the communication transmitted to me by your committee inviting me to the effice of the junior plator in your church and society. I accept the invitation. If my own feelings could have been consulted I should have desired to posipone for at least several months my entrances into the solemn affair. I do not now approach it with any sanguine conditions in my ability nor in my prospects. I come to you in weakness and not in strength. In short, I have not yet had an abundant experience of the uncertainty of numan hopes. I have learned the lesson of my utter dependency, and it is in a devoit rellance upon other strength than my own, in an humble trust in God to sustain me, that I put forthmy hands to His great work.

But, brethren, while I distruct my powers, I must speak firmly of purposes. I well know what are the claums on your part to my best exertions, and I shall meet them so far as in me lies by a faithful performance of duty. I shall do all I can, In approaching these duties, I am encouraged by the strong expression of confidence and good will I have read from you. I am encouraged by the hope of enjoying the counsel and aid of the distinguished servant of the Lord who has so long labored with you. I look to the example of the Lord in all my hopes of advancing His holy religion; and I implore the blessing of God upon this connection about to be formed between you and myself.

KILLING HIS DIVORCED WIFE WHO HAD MURDERED

HIS SECOND WIFE. GRAND JUNCTION, Col., Oct. 14.-A year ago the wife of H. A. Herrick, a well-to-do ranchman of this county, left him. Herrick afterward obtained a divorce, and married Margaret Thompson. The first Mrs. Herrick returned a short time ago, and, meeting Herrick and his wife, shot and instantly killed the woman. The murderess was admitted to bail, and began proceedings to recover some of Herrick's property. Yesterday afternoon, while the Sheriff and Mrs. Herrick were at the ranche looking up cattle, Herrick shot and killed Mrs. Herrick and then gave himself up to the Sheriff. The excitement over the affair is intense.

GOSSIP ABOUT CIRCULATION.

Ackerman, in The Star.

The Herald, in one week from the day of the reduction of the Items, lost 25 per cent of its circulation! Howland, who is Beanett's confidential representative, and Henry, the business manager, cabled tumediately to Mr. Bennett. After some $500 had been spent in cubing, The Herald's circulation meanwhile falling thousands daily, the reduction was agreed upon. Very much to the astonishment of these managers the loss of circulation continued. They had failed to take into consideration two important factors—first, the newsdealers, and second, the influence of the other merning papers. The Herald possibly, by spending a quarter of a million or so, might have beaten the dealers, but with The Sun, Tribune, and Star behind them the situation was altered. It is now a settled fact that The Herald will be defeated. From a thorough investigation, including the wholesale dealers, Herald employes and the many signs that can be read by a close observer, I conclude that The Herald has now lost 50 per cent of its circulation. When Bennett arrives next week there will be a shaking up that will astonish some people.

The Tribune has gained some ground, say about 8,000 increase. Its price at 3 cents is against arrapid increase.
